

7th Grade English/Language Arts- Students in my class have begun to read the novel "Freak the Mighty." I have been fortunate to have Mrs. Thetard in with me for this class, and we have been able to break the class into two smaller groups and read and discuss the book with our groups. We will continue to read the book until right around Winter Break. Hopefully, we will be able to watch the movie too!

My class has also started to work on practice tests to prepare them for the upcoming PARCC tests in March. The format for this test is new and very different from what they're used too, so I'm starting early to ensure that they feel comfortable when the time comes.

6th Grade English/Language Arts- Students in 6th grade are continuing to read the stories from our reading book. After Winter Break I would like to begin reading a novel with them. I think it will be a nice change. In language we will be working on verbs, verb tenses and adjectives.

Thank you for your continued support and please don't hesitate to email me with any questions or concerns!
